

The Games Weekly Review is designed to test and build your brain's active response speed, neural connectivity and total thinking power with over 100 hyper-fun new games each week.

1. You get 100 challenging new Games Weekly games every week.

2. You get smart-designed game play, optimized for computer controls.

3. You can customize your favorite games to get the exact speed and complexity you want. With Games Weekly games you choose your level of play and challenge.

6. Games Weekly games keep track of your moves. So if you want to, you can back up and try another move.

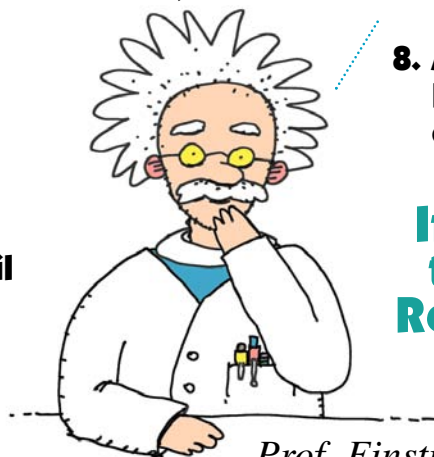

4. You don't have to look anywhere else. Math puzzles, word puzzles, logic puzzles and more – Games Weekly brings you a unique variety of smart brain games in one smart package.

5. Can't finish your game right now? You can save any game in progress and finish it later.

7. After you try a Games Weekly crossword puzzle you'll never want to go back to an old-style pencil crossword puzzle again.

Gee, how do I think all this up?

8. And a Games Weekly Review subscription is only $5 bucks a month.

Prof. Einstumper

If you have a brain,
the Games Weekly
Review is your game.
Coming soon.